BIRDSVILLE TRACK

MARREE TO BIRDSVILLE

Duration: 1 days / 517 km

An Australian Outback Adventure, the well maintained, unsealed track links Birdsville in Queensland's south-west to Marree in the mid-north of South Australia. The Birdsville Track covers some of Australia's most beautiful and challenging country, passing through the Simpson Desert and Sturt's Stoney Desert. Lake Eyre catchments, wetlands, sand dunes and vast gibber plains.

Features of the Birdsville Track include: soaking in a warm artesian spa bath at Clayton, Kalamurina Station Camping, Mulka Ruins and the Mungerannie Hotel.

The Birdsville Track is 517 kilometres long and will take approximately two days to complete.

Experiences:

Please note that the information contained in this document is current as of the date of creation. Subsequent changes in circumstances may render the information contained in this document no longer accurate. It is the reader's responsibility to verify the accuracy of the information before relying on it. This document should not be considered a substitute for professional advice.

Marree to Birdsville

Day: 1

Start: Marree End: Birdsville

An Australian Outback Adventure and a great icon, the well maintained, unsealed track links Birdsville in Queensland's south-west to Marree in the mid-north of South Australia. The Birdsville Track covers some of Australia's most beautiful and challenging country, passing through the Simpson Desert and Sturt's Stoney Desert. Lake Eyre catchments, wetlands, sand dunes and vast gibber plains. Track conditions are rough and challenging. The surface is generally extremely dry on a sandy base covered with gibbers. Travelling speeds vary depending on conditions and your load. The track will take its toll on tyres and travellers in four wheel drive vehicles are in a much better position to handle the terrain and minimise breakdowns and tyre punctures. Travellers should carry water and supplies in case of emergencies.